

WILLIAM J. PAYNE
AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK BUILDING
RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

January 27, 1926.

Senator S. L. Ferguson,
State Capitol,
Richmond, Virginia.

Dear Sir:

I am enclosing herewith a copy of my letter of this date to the Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate which I am sending you in order that you may be able to have before you and consider more at your lesiure, the worthiness of this cause, than you could probably do in listening to the reading of it in a busy committee meeting.

Will you not help to give a little comfort to these poor women in the declining years of their lives?

$20,000. a year is but a small sum for this State to give in trying to make the last days of these women a little more comfortable. $72.00 a year is a pitifully small sum but it will bring them a few more comforts than they now receive.

Yours very truly,

WJP/k

WILLIAM J. PAYNE
AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK BUILDING
RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

JANUARY 7, 1921

Honorable E. I. Ferguson,
State Capital,
Richmond, Virginia.

Dear Sir:

I am enclosing herewith a copy of my letter of this date to the Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate which I am sending you in case that you may be able to have before you and consider some of your features. The possibility of this course, which you would probably be inclined to the possibility of it in a way somewhat.

Will you not help to give a little of your to that your committee and the other part of their letter.

$20,000 a year for a year but a $10,000 for this state to give in trying to take the last days of these women's little more comfortable. $20,000 a year as a little more but it will only give a few more dollars than they now receive.

Yours very truly,

WJP